

World’s Most Ethical Companies® Honorees

The World’s Most Ethical Companies program honors companies that excel in three areas – promoting ethical business standards and practices internally, enabling managers and employees to make good choices, and shaping future industry standards by introducing tomorrow’s best practices today. Honorees have historically out-performed others financially, demonstrating the connection between good ethical practices and performance that’s valued in the marketplace.

In 2016, 131 honorees were named spanning 21 countries and five continents and representing over 45 industries. In its 10th year, the list includes 14 ten-time honorees and 13 first-time honorees.

“Stakeholders are increasingly pressing companies to go beyond the letter of the law and demonstrate the highest ethical standards in line with their corporate values. By disclosing information that proves our businesses walk the talk, we will create a competitive advantage while

“As business leaders, we're faced with a challenge around protecting our most valuable asset: information. In our increasingly connected world, we are generating, storing, and managing more data than ever before, and being attacked is inevitable. Companies that are

“At TE Connectivity we prioritize being a good corporate citizen. Our values -- integrity, accountability, teamwork and innovation -- define how we lead and guide our daily decisions and relationships with partners and customers. As businesses

“Through various studies, including one conducted by Ethisphere, we see that companies and organizations with the right ethical culture are winning in the marketplace. So, while I cannot predict the future, it does stand to reason that to remain viable and competitive
